1. - One credit corresponds to 15 hours of theoretical classes (or equivalent school work) per academic period.
2. - At the end of the course, the student is assigned a Performance Coefficient (C.R.) expressed by the quotient between the total points accumulated and the total credits obtained. The total accumulated points is equal to the sum of the products of the degrees obtained in each discipline by the corresponding number of credits. According to the overall academic performance coefficient, the student is classified into one of the following categories:

C.R. from 9 to 10 = Excellent
C.R. from 7 to 8.9 = Good
C.R. from 6 to 6.9 = Regular
C.R. from 0 to 5.9 = Insufficient
